

Product Overview

VPilot

Turnkey Automated Live News Production Solution

Solution Highlights

- Instant live streaming to any URL or social media platform
- Image and voice recognition
- Auto-direction based on audio, auto cue and a web-based control panel
- Rundown control and seamless switching to external feeds
- Multi-platform output from a single feed
- Web-channel ready, including live switching

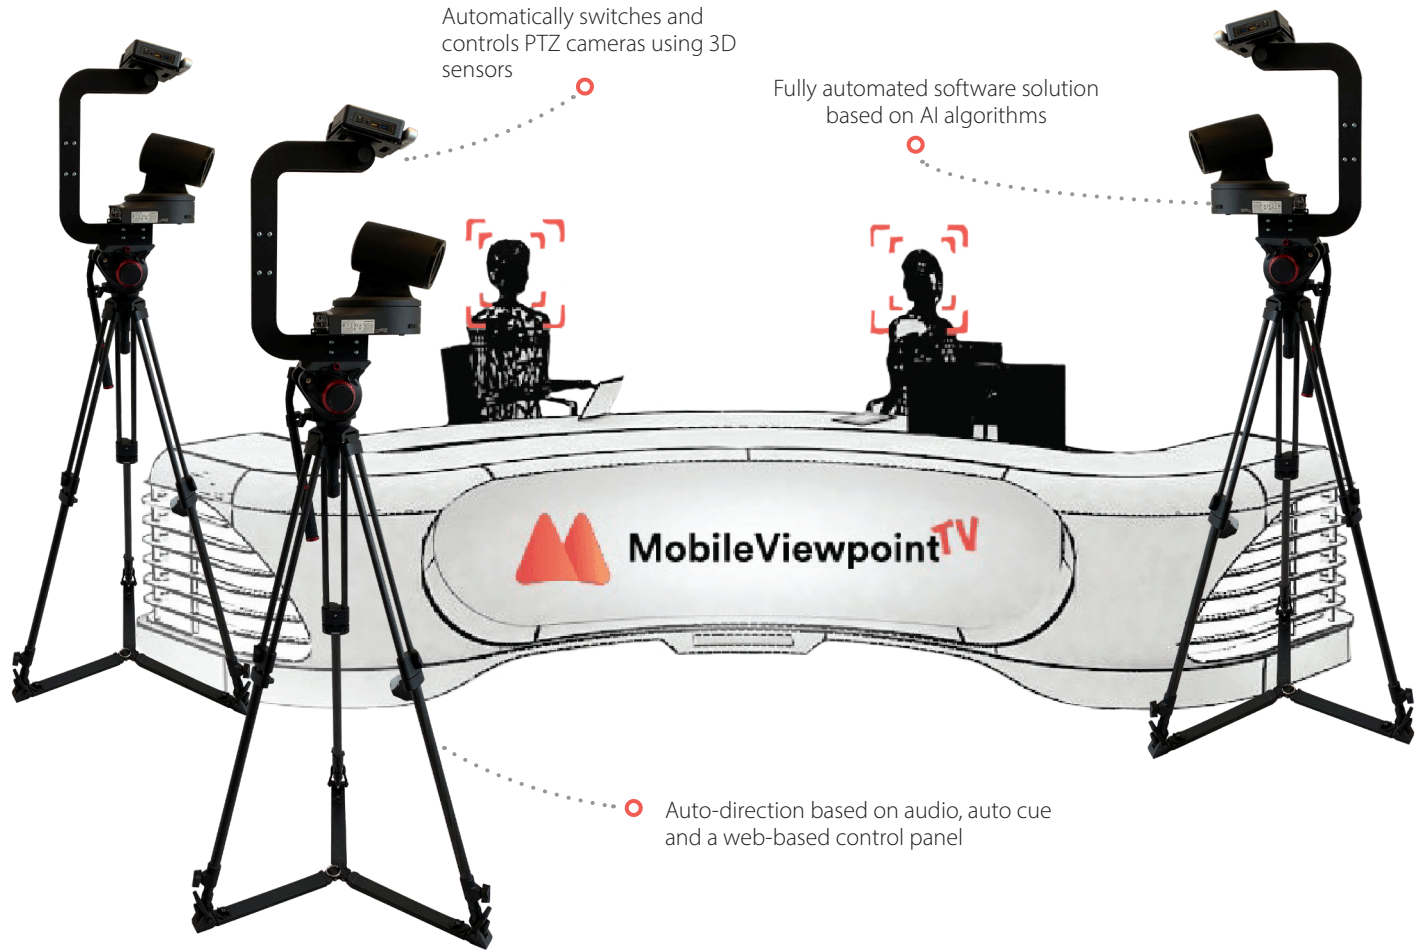

VPilot from Mobile Viewpoint, available exclusively in the U.S. from CP Communications, forever changes the way live news is produced and distributed. The innovative solution hands broadcasters the ability to create completely automated live news programming without the need of a cameraman or director. Control over three cameras, a switcher and a graphics engine enables vivid and accurate capture of any interview or news production.

The VPilot platform utilizes AI algorithms that automatically switch and control PTZ cameras by analyzing 3D video images and audio signals in the TV studio. Solution functionality mimics a real director, leaving the presenters to do what they do best — host a news broadcast.

VPilot is available in two configurations:

- NewsPilot: Targeted at broadcasters, for use in studio environments as well as for live news coverage
- StreamPilot: Aimed at journalists, bloggers, radio shows and event organizers, to support live event and interview production
